MEMORANDUM:

TO: ALL AFL-CIO DEPARTMENTS, STATE AND LOCAL CENTRAL BODIES

RE: Renewal of Labor Organization Bond Number 558 68 25-1

Gentlemen:

The Labor Organization Bond for the AFL-CIO and its affiliates was last renewed for a three year period from July 1, 1987, to July 1, 1990.

We have arranged to renew the bond effective as of July 1, 1990, for the ensuing three year term and we are pleased to enclose your new Certificate of Bond. Also included where appropriate is a billing for the premium along with a return envelope for your convenience.

The AFL-CIO is again paying for the first $2,500 of the bond coverage.

Therefore, if you receive a billing with your Certificate of Bond, and this communication, the charge is for the amount of bonding coverage which is in excess of the basic $2,500 for which the AFL-CIO is paying.

If after receipt and review, you wish to make any changes in the amount of the bond, please advise the office of the Controller of the AFL-CIO immediately, returning the enclosed Certificate of Bond and advising of the proper bond amount required.

Please be sure and make your check payable to Eberts & Harrison, Inc. and return the payment to this office along with a copy of the billing, in the enclosed self-addressed envelope.

If after receipt also, you have any questions, kindly telephone and we will be pleased to be of assistance.

Very truly yours,

UNITED FARM WORKERS OF AMERICA, AFL-CIO

c/o Massachusetts State Labor Council
8 Beacon Street, 3rd Floor
Boston, Massachusetts 02108
(617) 227-8260

ET-FF

May, 1990

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Now that May has arrived, the farm workers are back in the fields of California to harvest the table grapes, and are faced with the same dismal conditions that we have seen since Governor Deukmejian took office and stopped enforcing the ALRA, the law that was designed to protect the farm workers.

We want to touch base with you now because we are gearing up to take on the growers ONCE AND FOR ALL this summer. The situation is accelerating fast in California, and we want you to be a part of the latest campaign for the California table grape boycott, which will put us over the top.

The workers are outraged over the conditions, and we know that the boycott is working. In a recent show of overwhelming support for the Union, the UFW just won a huge election at the largest tree fruit grower in the country, who employs about 2000 workers. In spite of the grower's efforts to intimidate and influence the outcome by firing 500 workers and turning off the electricity and gas in the labor camp, the Farm Workers were still victorious. We know from experience, however, that the growers' lawlessness means that these workers will not gain a contract without winning the boycott. The industry might control the bureaucracy, but they can't stop consumers from doing what is right.

Sadly, the growers will stop at nothing to crush the farm workers' spirit. Its ironic that increased repression in the fields indicates that our efforts here in the cities are having a tremendous impact.

We know now that victory is imminent. Please read the enclosed information about our current letter-writing drive and send a clear message to the New England supermarket industry that we will not tolerate these injustices. Gracias, and Viva la Causa!

In solidarity,

Roberto De La Cruz
Vice President, UFW

SPRING/SUMMER 1990--LETTERS TO SUPERMARKETS

The farmworkers truly appreciate your support in our current campaign to pressure the supermarket industry to fulfill their responsibilities. They must respond to our demands and not sell carcinogenic grapes to consumers unaware of their dangers, and we need your help and influence to convince the management of the following stores. On the next page please find a sample letter to use as a guide; basically each letter should include the following information:

- 1) Ask the supermarket executive to boycott grapes.
- 2) Mention your organization's membership and support for farm workers.
- 3) Justify why the supermarket should support the UFW's grape boycott.
- 4) Ask for a response as soon as possible--set a date two weeks after you send the letter. Please contact the UFW for further campaign information if your letters go out after June 25.

*Please write to them as soon as possible on behalf of your organization and send us a copy of your letter, addressed to Roberto De La Cruz, UFW

8 Beacon St.
Boston, MA 02108

Every single individual who takes a stand in our struggle increases the pressure on the profit-seeking growers, so please encourage all of your members to join in. Together, we will win justice for farm workers and safe food for all consumers!

Dear [insert name of owner]:

On behalf of the [your union or organization] with a membership of [your membership], we would like to express our concern about the issues involved in the United Farm Workers Boycott of California table grapes.

Amherst-area students are increasingly aware of the pesticide hazards resulting from heavy application in the vineyards, tragically demonstrated by cancer clusters in adjacent communities such as McFarland and Earlimart, California. As is so often the case, it is children who suffer most. Childhood cancer rates in McFarland are 800% above the expected rates, while those in Earlimart are 1200% higher than the expectation.

We cannot condone such health risks to workers, their families and communities. Nor can we pretend that the problems are confined to California's agricultural districts. Table grapes are laden with toxic pesticide residues when they reach the supermarkets, posing a threat to consumers as well. We ask that you demonstrate your social responsibility to your customers by not carrying California grapes when they become available again in May.

Cesar Chavez, leader of the United Farm Workers, recently toured Massachusetts colleges, and was met by thousands of students, labor, religious, and community leaders--a tremendous response. More and more consumers are becoming involved in activities and actions sponsored by the United Farm Workers. Many stores and institutions have already committed not to serve California table grapes, and we are gathering more endorsements and resolutions every day. With your cooperation, our efforts will bring us together in a spirit of celebration rather than confrontation.

Again, we stress the gravity, and urgency, of this situation affecting all of us. We look forward to working with you toward an agreeable solution.

Please direct correspondence to [your union / organization, address] as soon as possible, or by [insert a date two weeks after letter is mailed unless otherwise specified].

Sincerely,
